COUNT I

(Infringement of U.S. Patent No. 8,424,752)

13. Plaintiff incorporates by reference the allegations of paragraphs 1-11, the same as if set forth herein.

14. The '752 Patent is valid, enforceable, and was duly and legally issued by the United States Patent and Trademark Office ("USPTO") on April 23, 2013. The '752 Patent is presumed valid and enforceable. See 35 U.S.C. § 282.

15. Plaintiff is the owner by assignment of the '752 Patent and possesses all rights of recovery under the '752 Patent, including the exclusive right enforce the '752 Patent and pursue lawsuits against infringers.

16. Without a license or permission from Symbology, Defendant has infringed and continues to infringe on one or more claims of the '752 Patent—directly, contributorily, and/or by inducement—by importing, making, using, offering for sale, or selling products and devices that embody the patented invention, including, without limitation, one or more of the patented '752 systems and methods, in violation of 35 U.S.C. § 271.

Direct Infringement

17. Defendant has been and now is directly infringing by, among other things, practicing all of the steps of the '752 Patent, for example, through internal testing, quality assurance, research and development, and troubleshooting. See Joy Techs., Inc. v. Flakt, Inc., 6 F.3d 770, 775 (Fed. Cir. 1993); see also 35 U.S.C. § 271 (2006). For instance, Defendant has directly infringed the Patent-in-Suit by testing, configuring, and troubleshooting the functionality of QR codes on its products and services.

18. By way of example, Defendant has infringed and continues to infringe at least one or more claims of the '752 Patent, including at least Claim 1. Attached hereto as Exhibit B is an exemplary claim chart detailing representative infringement of claim 1 of the Patent-in-Suit.

Induced Infringement

19. Defendant has been and now is indirectly infringing by way of inducing infringement by others and/or contributing to the infringement by others of the '752 Patent in the State of New York, in this judicial District, and elsewhere in the United States, by, among other things, making, using, offering for sale, and/or selling, without license or authority, products affixed with QR codes that require the accused technology for intended functionality, testing, configuration, troubleshooting, and other utilization. End users include, for example, customers, customers' customers, retail store personnel, and other third-parties.

20. Defendant took active steps to induce infringement, such as advertising an infringing use, which supports a finding of an intention. See Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios Inc. v. Grokster, Ltd., 545 U.S. 913, 932 (2005) (“[I]t may be presumed from distribution of an article in commerce that the distributor intended the article to be used to infringe another's patent, and so may justly be held liable for that infringement”).

21. The allegations herein support a finding that Defendant induced infringement of the '752 Patent. See Power Integrations v. Fairchild Semiconductor, 843 F.3d 1315, 1335 (Fed. Cir. 2016) (“[W]e have affirmed induced infringement verdicts based on circumstantial evidence of inducement [e.g., advertisements, user manuals] directed to a class of direct infringers [e.g., customers, end users] without requiring hard proof that any individual third-party direct infringer was actually persuaded to infringe by that material.”).

Contributory Infringement

22. On information and belief, Defendant contributorily infringes on Symbology's '752 Patent. Defendant knew or should have known, at the very least with the filing of this complaint as a result of its freedom to operate analyses, that third parties, such as its customers, would infringe the '752 Patent by implementing Defendant's QR code technology.

23. On information and belief, Defendant's implementation of the accused functionality has no substantial non-infringing uses. See, e.g., Lucent Techs., Inc. v. Gateway, Inc., 580 F.3d 1301, 1321 (Fed. Cir. 2009) (holding that the “substantial noninfringing use” element of a contributory infringement claim applies to an infringing feature or component, and that an “infringing feature” of a product does not escape liability simply because the product as a whole has other non-infringing uses).

Willful Infringement

24. On information and belief, the infringement of the '752 Patent by Defendant has been and continues to be willful. Defendant has had actual knowledge of Symbology's rights in the '752 Patent and details of Defendant's infringement based on at least the filing and service of this complaint. Additionally, Defendant had knowledge of the '752 Patent and its infringement in the course of Defendant's due diligence and freedom to operate analyses.

Plaintiff Suffered Damages

25. Defendant's acts of infringement of the '752 Patent have caused damage to Symbology, and Symbology is entitled to recover from Defendant the damages sustained as a result of Defendant's wrongful acts in an amount subject to proof at trial pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 271. Defendant's infringement of Symbology's exclusive rights under the '752 Patent will continue to damage Symbology causing it irreparable harm for which there is no adequate remedy at law, warranting an injunction from the Court.

REQUEST FOR RELIEF

26. Symbology incorporates each of the allegations in the paragraphs above and respectfully asks the Court to:

- (a) enter a judgment that Defendant has directly infringed, contributorily infringed, and/or induced infringement of one or more claims of each of the '752 Patent;
- (b) enter a judgment awarding Symbology all damages adequate to compensate it for Defendant's infringement of, direct or contributory, or inducement to infringe, the including all pre-judgment and post-judgment interest at the maximum rate permitted by law;
- (c) enter a judgment awarding treble damages pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 284 for

Defendant's willful infringement of the '752 Patent

(d) issue a preliminary injunction and thereafter a permanent injunction enjoining and restraining Defendant, its directors, officers, agents, servants, employees, and those acting in privity or in concert with them, and their subsidiaries, divisions, successors, and assigns, from further acts of infringement, contributory infringement, or inducement of infringement of the '752 Patent.

(e) enter a judgment requiring Defendant to pay the costs of this action, including all disbursements, and attorneys' fees as provided by 35 U.S.C. § 285, together with prejudgment interest; and

(f) award Symbology all other relief that the Court may deem just and proper.

Dated: April 24, 2020

Respectfully submitted,
